

Jubilee Story –

It was fun being the Queen because you could do whatever you wanted. The year she wanted to go to space.

“Space!” said Prince Philip nearly spitting out his coffee.

“Yes space” replied the Queen.

“You can’t go to space,” said Prince Philip.

“Why not?” replied the Queen.

“Because you haven’t got a rocket,” said Prince Philip.

“Yes I do,” said the Queen.

She went outside and there was a giant rocket and with the rocket was a corgi in a space suit and then the Queen was in one as well. She and the corgi got in. 3 2 1 blast off! The rocket shot up into space.

They shot past millions of stars suddenly they went into an asteroid field the Queen quickly did a sharp turn out of it but as she turned she hit a planet. They survived. Then the Queen got up on to her feet so did the corgi then they saw a green figure with a triangular head and tentacles and he brought them to his house.

It was big and it was strange. The house was pale green and it was hovering. They stepped inside it was very very strange. The Queen thought it was a waste of time. They went out she went back to the broken ship she grabbed tools from the aliens house and started to fix the ship. 2 hours later the ship was ready to go. They shot home.
